

Boy Survives Sea Tragedy as Two Men Perish

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A husky 14-year-old boy, who watched two men die as they drifted on a flimsy raft, was recovering in a hospital today after three days of tragedy and terror at sea.

Terry McClelland, a blond high school athlete from Huntington Beach, Calif., was rescued Friday by a fishing boat 90 miles southwest of San Diego.

Transferred to a submarine, he arrived Friday night in San Diego. He was pronounced in fairly good condition at a hospital.

He told newsmen a rambling tale about three terrible days of shipwreck, thirst, delirium, death, hunger, heat and blinding glare of sun, sea and sky.

He and his companions—Russell Bradford, 48, of Huntington Beach, his mother's stepfather, and Alvin Hartman, 57, of nearby Santa Ana, Bradford's friend—set out for a month's fishing cruise off Mexico last Tuesday. Bradford was a plastering contractor, Hartman a hod carrier.

After setting out from Newport Beach in their 36-foot boat, they encountered heavy swells. They tried riding at anchor that night.

"The sea anchor was pulling on the boat," the boy, mumbling and dazed from sedatives, told newsmen. "Two big swells picked up the boat and pulled the bottom out."

"Grandpa (Bradford) said to cut the raft loose..."

The three fishermen got aboard a six-by-three-foot raft of balsam wood and cork. Its bottom consisted of one rope netting through which a few timbers were looped, and water sloshed through the bottom continually.

They tried to attract several passing vessels Wednesday, their first day on the raft. Although they waved flags and poles, no one stopped.

They had no food or water, only a few packs of cigarettes that Hartman grabbed before leaving the boat.

After waiting in vain for rescuers under a blinding hot sun, Hartman "went crazy on the second day," Terry said.

Schools, Cities to Pay Sales Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office ruled Thursday that the state, counties, cities and school districts have been liable for payment of the 3 percent tax since Feb. 6, the date a law eliminating loop holes went into effect. The opinion said the act had an emergency clause and therefore all governmental agencies have been subject to the tax since the date the act was signed into law. The opinion did not specifically state that tax could be collected retroactively.

Woman Is Sought as Child Slayer

BUSFALO (AP) — A 34-state alarm is out for a slender, attractive woman whose name police do not know but who is pictured by 14 persons as the kidnaper-slayer of Andrew Ashley, 3.

The trousers worn by the boy the day he disappeared and some scraps of clothing were found Thursday in Delaware Park, where Andy was killed. These were considered possible clues.

Despite hundreds of telephoned tips and around-the-clock work by dozens of investigators, not a single major lead has turned up in the apparently motiveless killing.

A woman fitting the latest composite description of the killer was taken into custody in the suburban town of Amherst early today. But after detailed questioning, she was turned back to town authorities and charged with public intoxication.

The latest description was compiled at a meeting of 14 persons who said they had seen the dark-haired woman who lured Andy to the park a week ago today and previously bound and gagged two other young children. The slightly revised description made the woman younger than the mid-30s previously assumed but still with dark hair, smooth skin and high cheekbones.

Stepped Up Drive Starts in Algeria

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP) — A stepped-up drive by President Charles de Gaulle for a quick end to the seven-year Algerian war was under way today.

It includes bringing French divisions back from the North African territory to the continent, resuming suspended talks with rebel leaders and a renewed threat to partition Algeria into European and Moslem sectors if negotiations fail again.

De Gaulle's aim, according to informed sources is to break the Algerian impasse in three months—one way or another—in order to make French forces available by fall for the coming crisis in Berlin.

The bulk of France's armed forces, an estimated half million men, is tied down in Algeria. Their absence has weakened the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense position in Western Europe.

De Gaulle disclosed his new Algerian drive at a garden party at the presidential Elysee Palace Tuesday night. In an informal discussion with reporters, he said he had issued orders for the return of one division from Algeria. Without fixing dates, he added he would order others back as well. A French division is about 15,000 men.

Besides strengthening NATO forces on the European continent, the redeployment might also be intended as a peace gesture to the nationalist rebels.

De Gaulle said the peace talks with the rebels—broken off at Evian-le-Bains two weeks ago—will be resumed and "we will see what happens."

The president made clear that he will continue to insist on future association between an independent Algeria and France, including French retention of key military bases, and guarantees for the French minority in the North African territory. Otherwise, he said, France will reorganize the European and Moslem populations and partition Algeria.

De Gaulle said an Algerian settlement and "the day when there will no longer be a risk of crimes" would bring an end to the near-dictatorial powers he has exercised since the abortive army mutiny in Algiers two months ago.

"There will no longer even be any need for De Gaulle," he added.

Spy Trade With Russia Talked

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York World-Telegram and Sun said today that negotiations are under way to exchange convicted Soviet spy Col. Rudolf Abel for Francis Gary Powers, U2 spy plane pilot imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

The story said the deal is nearing completion.

The trade first was proposed a year ago by Oliver W. Powers, father of the American who was downed over Russia May 1, 1960, the newspaper said. Powers was sentenced to 30 years in prison. Abel, described by the government as a top Soviet intelligence agent, was convicted of espionage conspiracy in U.S. District Court here Nov. 15, 1957. He is serving a 30-year sentence at the federal prison in Atlanta, Ga.

Justice and State Department officials in Washington were quoted as saying they knew nothing of the current negotiations, but that they did not deny the report that such talks were going on.

British Marine Commandoes to Kuwait's Aid

By COLIN FROST

KUWAIT (AP)—British marine commandoes aboard the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier Bulwark landed in Kuwait today and the government radio announced that Saudi Arabian troops were coming to the sheikdom's defense against a threatened invasion by Iraq.

Kuwait's Minister of State Bader Abdulla Mulla announced that the government had requested an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council "to investigate threats from Iraq likely to endanger the security and independence of Kuwait."

The Arab League Council will hold an extraordinary session Tuesday at Saudi Arabia's request to consider Kuwait's request to join the ten nation league, it was announced in Cairo.

The British Foreign Office in London said the forces were moved into Kuwait at the "urgent and formal request" of the country's ruler, Sheikh Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah and placed at his disposal.

"It is to afford him such assistance as he may consider necessary for the preservation of the independence of Kuwait in the face of recent developments in Iraq," the foreign office statement said.

"The secretary-general of the United Nations is being informed. Her majesty's government earnestly hopes that the necessity to make use of this force will not arise. It is intended that the force be withdrawn as soon as the ruler considers that the threat to the independence of Kuwait is over."

The size of the force was not immediately disclosed. The frigate appeared in the mist in the Persian Gulf and a helicopter from the British consulate flew out to it.

Inside Kuwait rifle-bearing sheiks swarmed in from the desert by limousine vowing to help defend their oil-fueling oasis against armored Iraqi troops reported massing across the border.

The roads to the frontier were jammed with truckloads of armed Bedouin tribesmen who have taken up arms in the service of the sheik.

Correspondents estimated that more than 3,000 tribesmen passed through in one hour bound for the border. Newsmen were stopped by police 45 miles north of the capital and prevented from heading for the border region 50 miles farther north.

The border was closed Friday night for the first time since the crisis was touched off by Iraq's claim to Kuwait, which attained full independence from Britain only two weeks ago.

Hundreds of Bedouin tribal chiefs, flanked by bodyguards and retainers, rushed to Naif palace where Kuwait's ruler, Sheikh Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah, has been conferring with advisers over the threat posed by Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassam.

The city prepared for another giant demonstration today against Iraq's annexation move. Posters were readied showing Kassam getting a kick in the pants and a giant fist descending on his head.

Volunteers from the desert have been pouring into the city for two days pledged to fight if need be against Kassam's claim of sovereignty over Kuwait, richest oil prize in the Middle East.

More arrived by the hour, many seated in the rear of stock, chauffeur cars, their rifles between their knees. Some sat between bodyguards carrying revolvers in holsters slung knee-high from bandoliers.

"We a cerryda to meet any aggression," Assistant Secretary of State Talat Hussein told newsmen after a conference at security headquarters in the palace.

Hussein said the Bedouins had been mobilized into a national guard to bolster Kuwait's tiny army and were being posted at the northern border following reports that Iraqi tanks were massing across the frontier.

Kuwait's army totals only 2,400 men trained and supplied by the British. The Iraqi army reportedly numbers about 70,000.

The secretary of state said John Richmond, British political agent in Kuwait, had given new assurances that Britain stood ready to send aid to its former protector state if called upon.

The United Arab Republic's minister of state, Abdel Kader Hatem, said in Cairo reports indicated "some circles in Baghdad" were considering the possibility of armed intervention in Kuwait and that Iraqi troops had

Methodists to Dedicate New Building

The new educational building of the First Methodist Church will be dedicated by Bishop W. Kenneth Pope immediately following the morning worship service Sunday morning, July 2. Bishop Pope will also preach at the morning worship service.

This new educational building contains approximately fourteen thousand feet of floor space and houses the entire children's department of the church. It was completed and occupied for the first time on Christmas day of last year.

The total cost of the building was approximately $154,000.00 and was paid for over a period of three years.

The public is most cordially invited to attend the worship service and dedication service.

Negro Is Convicted of Murder

MEMPHIS (AP)—A jury today convicted Freddie Green, 19-year-old Negro, of the murder of a young white girl and fixed his punishment at death in the electric chair.

The all-male jury delivered its verdict after four hours of deliberation. Green heard the verdict without any show of emotion.

His attorneys filed a motion for a new trial which will be heard Aug. 1.

The state had demanded the death penalty for the young porter as punishment for his savage sex attack on Sharon Vaiden, 13, of Olive Branch, Miss. The defense pleaded temporary insanity.

Sharon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vaiden, was stabbed 34 times Feb. 18. She had gone to the cellular restroom while her mother shopped upstairs.

The defense pleaded that Green "put away for life, for keeps, so as not to be able to get a parole."

There was no doubt that Green killed Sharon, the defense said, but the very violence of the attack showed he was insane.

The state countered with a report from psychiatrists which said Green was sane at the time of the attack and is sane now.

Green took the stand for examination but most of his answers were "I don't remember." He said the signed statement detailing the killing was extracted from him by police "brutality."

Green testified he was subject to lapses of memory after his head was injured in an auto crash last September.

Sales Tax Up by $6 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State tax collections for the past 12 months increased $6,732,630 and the June tax report indicates Arkansas has recovered from the recession, Revenue Commissioner J. Orville Cheney said today.

Total revenue for the fiscal year ending tonight was $157,357,672, Cheney reported. General revenues were up $1,742,239 to $80,271,270 and special revenue increased $1,990,391 to $55,586,301.

June general revenues totaled $9,107,462, compared to $8,759,366 last June.

Tomatoes Bring a Record Price

HERMITAGE, Ark. (AP) — A half bushel of pink tomatoes brought a record price of $22 on the Hermitage market Thursday.

W. E. Jones of the Hickory Springs community made the sale to Bernie Kramer of Chicago and Frank Gilbert of Louisville, Ky.

Average price of tomatoes today was $4.50 a half bushel. The previous record for a single half bushel was $18.

R. E. Hunter, Bradley County agent, said today that grades continue to improve and good weather for the next two weeks will bring the best tomato crop in history. He estimated value of this year's production over $2 million.

Hunter said the peak of the crop year is expected early next week when 25,000 half bushels a day will be moving to market.

Fulbright Cautions on Doctrine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has cautioned the United States against the "dangerous doctrine" of unilateral military intervention anywhere to prevent the spread of communism.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is an important Senate voice on foreign affairs. His address to the Senate Thursday was considered a major foreign policy speech.

"Nothing would please Communist leaders more," Fulbright said, "than to draw the United States into costly commitments of its resources to peripheral struggles in which the principal Communist powers are not themselves directly involved."

Fulbright concentrated mostly on Cuba. He studiously avoided discussion of the Berlin crisis after remarking that it is "at this moment under the most serious study by this government and our European allies." He evidently put Berlin in a different category.

For the United States to try to overthrow the pro-Communist Castro regime in Cuba by use of its own forces, Fulbright said, might alienate "most of Latin America, Asia and Africa."

He referred specifically, too, to the Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos in striking at suggestions that the United States "should not hesitate to commit its strength to the active defense of its policies" anywhere outside the Communist empire.

The United States, Fulbright said, "cannot guarantee the border of a neutral country against infiltration, or its villages from subversion."

Medical Care Plan Delayed by Adams

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' program of medical care for the aged will not take effect July 1 as scheduled, Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said today.

Adams refused to link the announcement with defeat of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' $60 million bond issue, but he said he was concerned about what might happen to a $1.4 million budget increase granted by the 1961 Legislature for fiscal 1962.

"We don't know whether the special session of the Legislature will take that back," Adams said today. "And until that is determined, we are going to hold up on the new program."

Adams said the decision was the Welfare Department's and did not come on orders from the administration.

It has been suggested that the Legislature should cut back on budget increases granted during the 1961 session in order to finance an institutional construction program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The 1961 Legislature parcelled out about $13.3 million in budget increases with the public schools ($7 million) and the Welfare Department getting most of the money.

Adams said today's decision would have no effect on medical care programs for persons already on the welfare rolls or on other welfare benefits.

The new medical care program will cover persons over 65 with incomes too high to qualify them for welfare grants but too low to pay medical bills. The income ceiling is $1,200 for a single person and $1,500 for persons with dependents.

Feature of Washington's Big July 4th Celebration Is Roll Call of Hempstead Rifles

By MARY ANITA LASETER

One of the highlights of the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation observance this 4th of July will be the morning program featuring the reenactment of the roll call and the mustering out of the Hempstead Rifles.

At the Presentation of the Flag a speech made by Miss Bettie Conway 100 years ago will be given by her great-great-niece, Miss Joxie Wright. All of this will be directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Horton. The Hope unit of the Arkansas National Guard will enliven the ceremony with Sgt. Claud Byrd in charge.

After the War Between the States was declared, the next step was the organization of Arkansas' fighting men into companies, regiments, brigades, and armies. The Hempstead Rifles was the first company formed in Washington. It was composed of the best blood and brains of Hempstead County and was commanded by that gallant veteran of the Mexican War, Col. John R. Gratiot—a West Point graduate.

Officers of the Hempstead Rifles were John R. Gratiot, captain; Daniel W. Jones, 1st lieutenant; Benjamin P. Jett, 2nd lieutenant; George Taylor, 3rd lieutenant; James J. Erwin, 1st sergeant; Chambers B. Etter, 2nd sergeant; William Phillips, 3rd sergeant; and M. L. Langston, 4th sergeant. The staff consisted of William C. Smith, surgeon; Cadsman Pope, chaplain; J. Montcalm Simms, quartermaster; and J. A. Rawles. There were 80 privates in the company many bearing names familiar to residents of Southwest Arkansas today.

Recently the Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation received a letter from E. G. Bylander of Little Rock which promised to be most gratifying. We quote from it, in part: "At the close of the 1930 State Fair held in Little Rock there was an unclaimed framed exhibit of the names of officers, staff, and privates of the Hempstead Rifles. As Executive Director of the Fair, I stored this exhibit in my home."

...I thought, this list of the Hempstead Rifles would fit nicely into your restoration project, since the list shows it was 'written for William H. Etter, Washington, Ark., June 6, 1861.' Since no owner has claimed the list, I will be glad to turn it over to your association."

This parchment stained and yellow with age is a just tribute to the cause of the South and to the courage of heroes of other days. It is a roster of the Hempstead Rifles, the first unit in this section to enlist for service in the cause of the Confederacy. It tells a story of devotion to a cause of idealism almost unknown in this materialistic age, according to "The 'Old Town Speaks'" by Charlean Moss Williams.

Not content with devoting all of his time and much of his means to the Hempstead Rifles, Col. W. H. Etter had the roster mentioned above prepared and he presented it to the company. An employee of the ARKANSAS GAZETTE, a friendly rival paper of the Colonel's WASHINGTON TELEGRAPH, who was a skilled penman and designer, prepared the roster.

It is a beautiful piece of free-hand work, every letter, stroke and flourish as clear as if steel-cut. At the top of the sheet there are two Confederate flags, waving in opposite directions and between them, in French, the inscription: "God Defend the Right." The head of a lion is drawn in each of the four corners and at the bottom center is a tiny scroll with the words, "Written for Col. W. H. Etter, June 6, 1861."

The Washington Foundation is, indeed, fortunate to have discovered this 100 year old prize. Though old and faded, each inscription is still legible.

Industrial Group Reports Earnings

This was the equivalent of $3.01 per stock share, President Harold Snyder said.

Khrushchev in Another Warning

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev warned today that if any Western country mobilizes because of tensions in Germany and Berlin "we shall take proper measures and, if necessary, measures to increase our combat might."

The Soviet leader was addressing a Soviet-North Vietnamese friendship rally in the Kremlin. Discussing Germany, he mentioned measures the West might take if the Soviet Union signs a separate East German peace treaty. One of the much-discussed alternatives for the West is a beefing up of troop strength in West Germany.

"Gentlemen, you do not frighten us," Khrushchev said. "A peace treaty will be concluded."

He talked about the possible breaking of diplomatic relations by Western nations and said this was not a new threat, but a possibility that would only hurt the West.

"Your policy of threats will not frighten us," he said.

Khrushchev declared that the military might of both sides now was equal and policy should be conducted on an equal basis between them.

"But," he added, "we consider that the forces of socialism and peace are the stronger. We base that not only on our economic and military might, but on the justice of our cause."

Khrushchev also repeated his demands for disarmament on Soviet terms and talked about the situation in Southeast Asia.

He called last week's Zurich agreement among the Laotian princess a "good beginning" and said he hopes it would lead the Laotians to a solution of their own problems.

He blamed the United States and its allies for the Laos crisis and said it would never have arisen if the United States had not interfered in the internal affairs of Laos.

Rockets Working at Low Efficiency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today two of the three satellites fired aloft in a single rocket Wednesday night apparently have not separated and thus are working at reduced efficiency.

The third—the Navy's experimental navigational satellite Transit 4A—has separated and is "working perfectly," the announcement said.

"Signals received from Injun and GREB satellites indicate that they have not separated from one another, although Transit 4A has separated from the other two," the Navy said.

The 55-pound sphere called GREB was designed to measure X-ray radiation from the sun. The Injun, a 40-pound drum-shaped vehicle, was sent up to measure radiation in what are called the Van Allen belts around the earth.

Shot to Death Accidentally

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Spanking Harris, about 60, was accidentally shot to death today in his home in the New Hope community, about 15 miles east of here.

Deputy Sheriff Benson Robbins said Harris' shotgun apparently discharged when he lay it down after using it to chase some cows from his field.

Negotiations Fail In U. S. and Red Talks

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two weeks of negotiations have failed to produce agreement between the United States and the Soviet Union setting up a general disarmament conference.

Both sides admitted this Friday as their Washington talks wound up. The negotiators did agree to begin a second round of discussions in Moscow July 17.

U.S. negotiators prepared for the Moscow talks with a sense of disappointment at the lack of progress. President Kennedy himself took a personal hand Friday in trying to further the discussions.

Kennedy invited the Soviet negotiator, Valerian A. Zorin and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov to the White House for a half-hour chat before Friday's wrap-up.

Kennedy was reported to have stressed to open the importance he attaches to getting an agreement to end the arms race.

The snail's pace of the discussions has added to a growing opinion among Kennedy advisers that no fruitful negotiation with the Russians on major cold war issues are in sight.

Instead, in the opinion of top Kennedy aides, the Russians are in a self-confident, non-negotiating mood based on a belief the tide is with them. The Russians, Kennedy aides say, have shown no sign of conciliation at the Geneva let ban or Laos conferences or in the Germany-Berlin issue.

The Americans had hoped for agreement by now on starting a multilateral disarmament conference by July 31. While this is still the official hope, authorities privately concede it now looks as if the disarmament question may have to be tossed back into the lap of the United Nations when the General Assembly meets this fall.

No time limit was set for the Moscow talks.

So far, Zorin said, "practical questions have not been discussed in detail."

Miss Monroe Undergoes Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—Glamorous Marilyn Monroe had her gall bladder removed Thursday night in a two-hour emergency operation at Polytechnic Hospital.

Early today, the blonde beauty, 34, was reported in good condition.

Seven doctors were in attendance during surgery, including Marilyn's personal physician who had flown in from California.

Under sedation, the movie queen was wheeled into her private room where her ex-husband, former baseball great Joe DiMaggio waited.

A hospital spokesman said, "The entire gall bladder was removed" during the operation, adding: "There were no complications and she is resting well."

A hospital spokesman said the normal convalescence period from gall bladder surgery is 10 to 12 days.

DiMaggio, who had been standing by at the hospital ever since Marilyn was admitted, has been seen with her a great deal ever since her divorce last winter from playwright Arthur Miller, her third husband.

Last February, Miss Monroe signed herself into the Payne Whitney Clinic of New York Hospital, a psychiatric institution. Later she transferred to Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center for treatment of what was described as "emotional and physical exhaustion."

Slur of South to Cost Magazine
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An alleged slur of the South may cost Holiday magazine its Arkansas advertising account.

"As far as I'm concerned, we have spent our last dime with Holiday magazine," Ted Woods, state publicity and Parks Director, said Wednesday.

Woods was angered over an editorial in the magazine's July issue which he said contained sharp criticism of the Civil War Centennial in the South.

A news article in the magazine warning tourists about alleged Southern speed traps also raised Woods' ire.

He said the article and editorial were aimed at discouraging tourists from coming to the South.

Woods said he was sure the Publicity and Parks Commission would back his decision.

He said state publicity agencies in Texas and Oklahoma feel the same way he does and he said he expected Louisiana to join.

Mississippi already has threatened.

North Plains Area Is in Need of Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vast reaches of the usually green Northern Great Plains are turning brown under a hot, sun untempered with cooling summer showers.

The rains have not come. Snow was scarce last winter. The result is not yet a dust bowl, reminiscent of the 1930s, but there is no mistake—a drought grips an area stretching from much of Minnesota through North and South Dakota into the prairie provinces of Canada.

The lack of moisture has struck hard at small grain crops, has hit cattle unable to find the usual lush spring pasture grasses and has spawned cores of forest and brush fires in region noted for their June verdancy.

Mass calls for help have gone to Washington from public officials on behalf of farmers.

In North Dakota all but 2 of the 53 counties have been declared drought disaster areas. Similar designations have been extended to large chunks of South Dakota and northwestern Minnesota.

This means farmers may cut hay and graze cattle on land retired from crop production under the new feed grain program in the soil bank plan instituted several years ago.

Forest fire towers in northern Minnesota, normally deserted in June, are manned around the clock. Puffs of smoke from Canadian fires wrapped a dull haze over parts of Minnesota and North Dakota this week.

Canadian troops have been sent to fight the largest blaze, sweeping the Whiteshell Reserve forest about 100 miles northeast of Winnipeg.

Canadian officials have despaired of saving wheat and other crops in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where the unseasonable heat has sent the mercury soaring over 100 in some sections.

Board Hears Reassignment Requests

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock School Board will continue hearing pupil reassignment requests for the fall term today, but no Negroes seeking transfers to predominantly white schools are expected to appear.

Ten Negroes asked the board Wednesday for transfers to white schools — six to junior high schools which will be desegregated this fall and four to mainly white senior high schools.

Five other Negroes who had applied for transfers to former white schools did not appear. Neither did a Negro assigned to a predominantly white school who had indicated she would ask reassignment to an all-Negro school.

School Sup. Terrell E. Powell said the board's decisions on the reassignment requests will be disclosed in about a week.

Most of the 10 Negroes heard Wednesday asked their reassignment requests on the fact that they lived closer to former white schools than to Negro facilities.

But some said they thought they would receive better instruction at white schools and two girls said they have brothers assigned to integrated schools next fall.

The school board has assigned 25 Negroes to white junior high schools for the fall term. Another 24 Negroes have been assigned to the city's predominantly white senior high schools.

Sentence in Slaying Suspended

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The former operator of a North Little Rock night club is on probation today after receiving a suspended five-year sentence for second-degree murder.

A Pulaski Circuit Court jury deliberated about an hour Wednesday before finding Morris Faucett guilty in the fatal shooting of Evans Sanders, 24, of North Little Rock last Dec. 4.

The jury sent a five-year sentence but recommended leniency. Judge William J. Kirby ordered a suspended sentence and placed Faucett on probation.

Sanders was shot to death outside Faucett's night club. Faucett pleaded self-defense.

Faucett had been advertising in the magazine.

Happy tears were the order of the day as 17-year-old Bettjean Jeska of Swanton, Ohio, was crowned "1961 Junior Cook of the Year" in the Kroger-Westinghouse teenage recipe contest. Along with the title, Bettjean won $5,000 in cash and a TWA jet trip to Europe for herself and her mother.

It All Depends Upon Your Point of View!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I read your column every day and find the questions and answers most interesting, particularly those concerning unwed mothers. I was an unwed mother who made the difficult decision of keeping her son against the advice of doctor, family and friends. Thank God I did. My baby only lived four months but in that time I came to love him more than life itself. Now I have a good home, two beautiful children and the most wonderful husband a woman could ask for. Keeping that first baby and seeing him through to the end gave me the chance to learn what real love is and to love my husband and children as they should be loved. —A Happy Mother.

Dear Helen: I beg of you not to advise unwed mothers to keep their babies. How can these inexperienced young girls possibly take care of the poor little babies when they can't even take care of themselves?

The following headlines were culled from newspaper within the last six months. None of the mothers involved had husbands: "Four Children Found Locked in Bedroom Ten Years," "Two Children Beaten to Death by Mother and Thrown Over Cliff," "Eighteen-Year-Old Mother Too Busy Working," "Isn't it better for the mother to be punished than the child? I beg unwed mothers to take their babies to the nearest church or orphanage and leave them so that women like myself who will love and care properly for the youngsters may have our prayers answered. —Mrs. A. H.

Dear Helen: I am a teen-age girl who came a few years ago to live in a foster home. The family is kind to me and we all get along fine but I miss my own folks so very much and long to be back with them. I can leave my foster home at 18. Should I do this after all they've done for me or stay here and forget my own family? —Problem Girl.

Dear Problem Girl: First of all stop thinking of yourself as a "Problem Girl." Accent the positive, live up to your best self. That of course involves being loyal as well as grateful to your foster parents. From what you say they have been extremely good to you.

Not knowing the terms of your placement, I cannot say whether you should or shouldn't see your own family. Your longing to be with them is both understandable and poignant but you must be realistic.

Bear in mind that it is your foster parents who have taken you into their hearts and home. Having done so your welfare would be their chief concern. Talk to them as you have to me.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Guidance to Gracious Living."

Senate Launches Narcotics Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has launched a new investigation of narcotics, gambling and white slave rackets in big cities from coast to coast.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, confirmed today that senate investigators are in the field conducting preliminary inquiries for hearings it plans to start here by early August.

He said it would be premature to give details at this stage, but indicated the inquiry will be wide-scale.

The vice investigation is being undertaken with new powers authorizing the subcommittee to investigate virtually anywhere in the field of organized crime.

It was learned that staff investigators have visited New York, Miami, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and will work in other Midwestern and some west coast cities.

U. S. Chance Is Up to Three

NEW YORK (AP) — America's chance of retaining the Walker Cup in September's biennial battle with Britain will rest on the shoulders of three present and former amateur kings and seven other top-drawer stars.

The 10-man U.S. team was announced Tuesday by the U.S. Golf Association. The showdown with Britain is scheduled Sept. 1-2 at the Seattle Golf Club. The U.S. team won 9 to 3 in 1959.

Heading the team will be national champion Deane Beman of Washington, D.C., Charley Coe of Oklahoma City, and Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio.

Rounding out the team are Gene Andrews of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Don Cherry of New York and Wichita Falls, Tex.; Bob Cochran of St. Louis; Bob Gardner of Spring Lake, N.J.; Bill Hyndman III of Philadelphia; Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N.C., and Dr. Frank M. (Bud) Taylor of Pomona, Calif.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "I hate to do this," a gunman said as he took $185 from a grocery store just outside the city limits Tuesday.

He told William A. Harrison, the store manager, that his mother was ill and he needed the money.

President Plans Long Holiday
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and his family will leave Washington at 3:45 p.m. Friday to spend a long Fourth of July weekend "just resting" at his Hyannis Port, Mass., home, the White House announced today.

The one-hour flight by jet transport will take off from Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland and land at Otis Air Force Base, close to Hyannis Port at Falmouth, press secretary Pierre Salinger said.

The President and his family plan to fly from the White House to Andrews Field, and from Otis Field to the family residence at Hyannis Port, by helicopter.

Kennedy plans to return to Washington early Wednesday morning.

Complaint in Madison Dropped
HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Republican leaders say they have dropped a complaint that no ballots or ballot boxes showed up in Madison County's Venus township in Tuesday's special election.

GOP candidate Essie Barker lost to Farrell Faubus by a 2-1 vote in a race for state representatives, and GOP leaders said there was no point in contesting a one-sided election.

Woman Saves Her Son, 4
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Raymond Young, 28, of Constantine, Mich., dove into deep water in Lake Ouachita Thursday and saved her 4-year-old son from drowning.

Mrs. Young, who can't swim, thrashed around in the water until an unidentified bystander grabbed her hand.

Her son, Jeffrey, was unconscious when he was pulled from the water. Sheriff Duffie Searcy administered artificial respiration during a 24-mile ride to a hospital here.

The sheriff was at the lake attending the National Field Archers' tournament, in which Raymond Young was competing. The boy apparently fell into the lake while playing on the shore.

He was pronounced in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Hospital Funds
WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1,900,000 authorization for a hospital at Little Rock Air Force Base is included in a military construction bill signed Tuesday by President Kennedy. Other Arkansas items include $475,000 for operational and community facilities at Blytheville Air Force Base; $48,000 each for Army National Guard armories at Dermott, Lake Village and Lincoln, and $48,000 for an Army Reserve Center addition at Adams Field, Little Rock.

Grasshoppers Invade Area in Drought

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Massive grasshopper invasions today posed an added threat to the northern Great Plains, already in the grip of a devastating drought which has brought scores of counties under federal disaster programs.

The new menace came as temperatures again in the 90s continued to sear vast acreages in five states and three Canadian provinces.

Unseasonable summer fires on the usually verdant prairie and in wooded county at its northern fringes still were casting heavy smoke pall.

From Helena, Mont., came federal and state reports that grasshoppers have infested an estimated million acres in Montana, plus other large Wyoming areas.

At Williston in northwestern North Dakota, firefighters said a "dark wall" of large hoppers skimmed ahead of a prairie blaze which roared across 5,000 acres late Thursday before burning itself out at the banks of the Little Missouri River.

Firemen from five towns, aided by 1,000 volunteer farmers and oil workers kept the fire from invading inhabited territory.

The blaze raged as the final two of North Dakota's 53 counties were declared disaster country. "This is very serious because it's the Great Plains breadbasket that's going," said Norris Ellertson, regional director for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation.

After a personal survey and reports from field men, Ellertson said Thursday night at Bismarck, N. D., that he was recommending addition of 30 more counties in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota to the disaster category.

These included Montana's 20 easternmost counties, 12 in western South Dakota and 6 in northeastern Wyoming. If approved in Washington, these would bring to 11 the counties eligible for emergency aid in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming.

In Ottawa, the Canadian government mapped emergency measures to save dairy and breeding stock in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where up to 75 per cent of grain land was reported in jeopardy.

Youth Sentenced for Slaying
MARION, Ark. (AP) - A 9-year-old Negro boy who told police he learned to fire a rifle watching TV westerns, was sentenced Thursday to the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial School for an indefinite term for fatally shooting his 4-year-old brother. Crittenden County authorities said the boy pointed the rifle at his brother and pulled the trigger after the younger boy hit him with a wet distowel. Police called the shooting deliberate.

Governors Sticking to Middle Road

HONOLULU (AP) - In obvious reflection of the mood at the annual conference of the nation's governors stuck to the middle of the road in their 53rd annual conference.

In business sessions which wound up Wednesday, the conference elected a conservative Republican, Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire, as its new chairman. It picked Hershey, Pa., for next year's meeting, June 30, July 5.

Just about every shade of political opinion got representation on the new executive committee, headed by Powell. Its members include Govs. Elmer L. Andersen, Minnesota Republican; Edmund G. Brown, California Democrat; Buford Ellington, Tennessee Democrat; Paul Fannin, Arizona Republican; David L. Lawrence, Pennsylvania Democrat; Edwin L. Mechem, New Mexico Republican; Gaylord A. Nelson, Wisconsin Democrat, and John B. Swainson, Michigan Democrat.

In its official actions, the conference gave backing to President Kennedy in international negotiations but stopped short of approving federal aid to education in the form the President wants it.

The governors adopted their first statement on civil rights in the history of their conference. But it was so vaguely worded that Southerners who had steamed up for a bitter fight against a stronger resolution offered by 15 Republicans let the measure go into the record without bithering to debate it.

Five years and one day later a little group of newspaper reporters, radio and television personnel and two government officials made their way up the mountain side under the guidance of forest rangers.

No word had come from Dr. Stanley Steele Brumford since the day he had departed from Midwestern University.

Now, ordinarily such a departure would have created no great stir. Many professors depart their environs, nay, this very earth, with hardly a one-inch obituary.

But this professor was St. Stanley Steele Brumford, the greatest philosopher of his day, a man as revered as Albert Schweitzer, as honored as Winston Churchill.

His was the philosophic light that burned the brightest in the materialistic world of the Twentieth Century: his was the mind alone that might cope with the problems that beset the soul in the Atomic Age.

In the entire world, Dr. Brumford was the one man to whom the masters of the Kremlin deferred, Hindu Holy Men acknowledged, African Nationalists respected and avant garde poets tolerated.

The little group made its way up the last few feet of the mountain.

Now it gathered in almost religious silence at the door of Dr. Brumford's cabin.

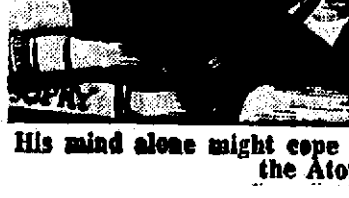

Dr. Brumford did not appear at the door to welcome the group.

In whispers they discussed and argued who should enter first.

Sam Hale, columnist for one of the great newspaper syndicates had known Dr. Brumford for more than 30 years. Also, Sam was senior in the group. Sam was designated to go first.

He slowly walked to the cabin door, knocked, waited and then entered.

When he had been gone an hour, the others decided to follow.

His mind alone might cope with the problems that beset the Atomic Age.

THE FINAL WORDS
By LESTER ARNO

It was being talked about in whispers at the United Nations in 20 languages; the television networks had cut into comedy shows and dramas to carry the news flash: Dr. Stanley Steele Brumford had announced his retirement to his mountain retreat.

"The Good Lord has allotted me the biblical span of three score and ten. Now, I shall retire to my little place in the mountains and think. I shall also try to put down on paper my conclusions. I ask all my friends throughout the world to grant me five undisturbed years. It, at the end of that period, I have not returned, then let a group of journalists come to my retreat and I shall give them my conclusions."

Five years and one day later a little group of newspaper reporters, radio and television personnel and two government officials made their way up the mountain side under the guidance of forest rangers.

No word had come from Dr. Stanley Steele Brumford since the day he had departed from Midwestern University.

What Taylor suggested - and Kennedy proposed to Congress - included:

Gen. Taylor's Job Remains Unclear

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) - Still unclear is whether President Kennedy has picked Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as just one more adviser among a bundle of advisers or whether he brought him in to short-circuit some of the others.

Kennedy is knee-deep in advisers, of whom McGeorge Bundy, former Harvard dean, is the specialist on security affairs; which include defense and intelligence and, perhaps, foreign policy.

Taylor, 60, former Army chief of staff who retired in 1959 in protest against President Eisenhower's defense policies, will be Kennedy's military adviser, working primarily in the military and intelligence fields.

This seems to leave Bundy's position foggy. He was one of those who sat in with the President when the decision was made to let the disastrous Cuban invasion begin. But so did Gen. Lyman L. Lamm, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Taylor, who has just completed for Kennedy a study of the Cuban failure, is against the Joint Chiefs of Staff system altogether.

Not long after his 1959 retirement Taylor wrote in Look magazine that the joint chiefs hadn't been able to produce "an agreed military strategy of their own," that the system was a failure and should be abolished.

And in his 1960 book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," Taylor proposed that the joint chiefs be replaced by a single defense chief of staff and an advisory board he called the supreme military council.

So now, Taylor, who doesn't think the joint chiefs should exist, will be dealing with them, at the same time, having the President's ear. His office will be in the White House.

The White House said Taylor would not be "interposed" between Kennedy and the joint chiefs or the Security Council or the secretary of defense, Robert S. McNamara, who has defended the chiefs from criticism in the Cuban expedition.

Taylor apparently already has had quite an influence on the President.

Kennedy, last March 28 in a special defense message to Congress, cast aside the philosophy of "massive retaliation" at this country's "all-purpose war" - current doctrine.

Instead, he plugged for the "balance of forces" concept, which means being prepared for any kind of war. Nearly all he recommended had been outlined earlier in the year by Taylor in the January issue of Foreign Affairs Quarterly.

What Taylor suggested - and Kennedy proposed to Congress - included:

A long-term reappraisal of the nation's military goals and strategy; immediate modernization and expansion of the nation's forces for limited war; a long-range missile system that can be moved around instead of being stationary.

In addition: at this moment, when Soviet Premier Khrushchev is building a crisis on Berlin, Taylor is a man who not only had military experience in Berlin but has very positive opinions about defending it.

He was American commander in Berlin from 1949 to 1951. He thinks this city, 110 miles inside Communist East Germany and the Western outpost in the Red world, must be defended.

In a Chicago speech 14 months ago he said: "Berlin is defensible through our clear determination to go all out, if necessary, in any kind of military operation which might be required by the situation. Berlin can be defended and, in my opinion, must be defended."

Taylor takes up his post in the White House at the very moment when the Russians, Berliners and this country's own allies are wondering just how tough Kennedy will be resisting the Khrushchevian pressures.

POWER that sustains may be found thru regular church attendance

they won

...without army, or navy, or air force.

Thirteen small struggling colonies set themselves against imperial might, and they won. Led by men of character, devotion, courage and high ideals, the men of Valley Forge won our Independence, our Fourth of July. They were lovers of Liberty and of God. But our freedom did not come easy. God bless the memory of those historic patriots who laid everything on the altar for their country... their lands, their homes, their families, their very lives. Are we worthy to 'follow in their train?' Just what are we paying for this rich inheritance? Let us bow, on this Fourth of July, in devout gratitude. Let us help make "Christian America" truly Christian, more loyal and more Godly.
